ADITIC Privacy Policy

Your privacy is a serious matter for Aditic and we understand you expect us to share information about you in a full and transparent manner. This privacy policy describes our practices with respect to you or your company's personally identifiable information. This statement covers the website www.aditic.com and by visiting the site, you agree to the terms of this privacy policy.

How do we collect information?

- It is possible for you to visit our website without giving us any personal information; the full use of our online service however requires you give us some information about yourself. We only use this information to improve the quality of service delivered to you and occasionally send you additional information about Aditic. You can choose not to receive this information at anytime by opting-out.
- We use cookies and IP address to know which part of our website you visit and what features you use; we however do not link this information to you so a user's session remains anonymous.
- Your information may be stored and processed in France or any other country in which Aditic or its affiliates or subsidiaries operate. By using this site, you consent to any such transfer of information outside of your country.

What use do we make of your personal information?

- Aditic may engage other companies and individuals to perform services on our behalf. Those companies may have access to your personal information but will however not use such information for any other purpose than providing such services to Aditic.
- Aditic may disclose your personal information if required to do so by law or in the good-faith belief that such action is necessary to: (a) comply to the law or comply with legal process; (b) act in urgent circumstances to protect Aditic or its affiliates' rights of property or the personal safety of Aditic employees, users of Aditic's services, or members of the public.
- When you give us personal information, Aditic will not share that information with third parties without your permission, other than for the limited exceptions listed above.

How we make sure your private information is secure?

This site has put drastic security measures in place to protect the loss, damage or misuse of your information. All collected data is securely stored on a private network not accessible from outside.

How can I use the information I receive from Aditic?

In order to access and use the service, you will receive information and files from Aditic such as SDK and associated documentation, contact and login information, etc... In case you might reuse the content of the SDKs and other files Aditic shares with you outside of the Aditic service, you shall not do so without asking Aditic's permission and without that permission, in no case you might share those documents with 3rd parties.

What is Aditic's change policy?

Aditic may amend this Privacy Policy at any time, at our sole discretion. Use of information we collect now is subject to the Privacy Policy in effect at the time such information is used. This site may contain links to other sites. Aditic is not responsible for the privacy practices or the content of such other Websites.
